Mark D. Hildreth practices in the areas of business bankruptcy, creditors' rights, foreclosure, workouts, assignments for the benefit of creditors, and business litigation. His clients include banks and other financial institutions, leasing companies, receivers, commercial landlords, real estate entities, and sureties.

Mark works with his clients on all types of loan enforcement matters throughout Florida including commercial foreclosures, complex workout and Chapter 11 bankruptcy situations as well as litigation involving various types of business law and creditors' rights. Mark also represents receivers and bankruptcy trustees on a select basis and handles cases involving assignments for the benefit of creditors.

In 1992, Mark was one of the first attorneys in the nation to receive Board Certification in Business Bankruptcy Law by the American Board of Certification. The American Board of Certification's programs are designed to identify and recognize those attorneys in consumer or business bankruptcy who have met or exceeded rigorous certification standards relating to experience, continuing legal education, integrity, and peer review; in addition to demonstrating a sophisticated understanding of the law in their specialty area. Mark has maintained his certification continuously since 1992.

Mark has chaired statewide Bankruptcy Practice and Procedure seminars for the Business Law Section of the Florida Bar and has served on various sub-committees studying revisions to Florida's Uniform Commercial Code and Receivership laws.

Mark is admitted to practice in all of Florida's Federal District Courts as well as in the Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals and the United States Supreme Court.
