Practice Areas: Bankruptcy and Restructuring

Jay is an attorney in our Bankruptcy and Restructuring and Mergers and Acquisitions practice groups. He specializes in the areas of bankruptcy and corporate restructuring, lending and leasing law, and general corporate representation.

In the bankruptcy and corporate restructuring areas, Jay represents debtors, creditors' committees, lenders, and leasing companies. He acts as origination and recovery counsel for various lending institutions and leasing companies. Based on his corporate restructuring experience, Jay also acts as outside general counsel to a variety of companies in diverse industries, including construction, manufacturing, trucking, business services, and equipment leasing. Through his years of engagements, Jay also has specific expertise in franchising law, including the development of franchise systems. Jay has assisted a variety of clients in the formation of joint ventures, including joint ventures seeking minority certification.

Jay is a frequent author and lecturer for such organizations as the Commercial Law League of America, the American Bankruptcy Institute, Law Education Institute, the Equipment Leasing, and Finance Association, and the National Business Institute.
